

The Glory Years of Bison Basketball

An OBU Centennial Series Book

Over a three-year span, the Oklahoma Baptist University Bison basketball team put together a rare run of success, reaching three consecutive NAIA Division I championship games. The Bison played before packed-out crowds in OBU's Clark Craig Fieldhouse, and drew fans to their games across the region during the era led by Coach Bob Bass and the legendary Al Tucker.

The Glory Years of Bison Basketball recaps each game from the 1964-65, 1965-66 and 1966-67 seasons, including statistics, photographs, newspaper highlights, and behind-the-scene insights. Written by John W. Parrish, who served as OBU's sports information director during the Glory Years, the book provides a journey back to the days when live basketball action was a region-wide event, and the chance to be part of a great throng of spectators added to the culture of the community.

Only four times in the tournament's 71-year history has one school sent a team to the championship game for three consecutive years. The Glory Years of Bison Basketball gives readers a glimpse at what is involved with such a unique accomplishment. Get your copy today!
